Notes to Financial Statements December 31, 2004 and 2003

Note 1 - Summary of significant accounting policies:

The summary of significant accounting policies is presented to assist in understanding the financial statements. The financial statements and notes are representations of the Company's management, who is responsible for their integrity and objectivity. These accounting policies conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America for the years ended December 31, 2004 and 2003.

Organization, nature of business and market concentrations:

The Company was incorporated in 1971, under the laws of the State of Alabama. In 1987, operations of the Company were transferred to Jackson, Mississippi. The Company engages in origination and brokerage activities for churches and non-profit institutions in various states, where registered, in the continental United States of America. The Company is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission and qualified as a broker-dealer in thirty-four states.

On April 21, 1998, the shareholders of Rives, Leavell & Co., Inc. exchanged and transferred all outstanding shares of common stock of the Company to RLC Holding Company, Inc. (RLC) for the outstanding shares of common stock of RLC, establishing Rives, Leavell & Co., Inc. as a wholly-owned subsidiary of RLC.

Recognition of revenues and expenses and basis of presentation:

The Company uses the accrual method of accounting. Revenues are recognized when earned, and expenses are recognized when incurred. The accompanying financial statements include the assets, liabilities, equity and financial activities of the Company.

Service fee and retail brokerage revenues are recognized as income, and service fees and retail brokerage commissions as expense, upon the satisfaction of the minimum escrow of certain bond issues. This escrow amount is normally a minimum of 40 percent of bond proceeds or such amount considered necessary to facilitate a first mortgage on the property of the Issuer of the bonds.

Equipment and depreciation:

Equipment is stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. For financial reporting, estimates of depreciation are provided by the straight-line method over lives ranging from five to seven years. Maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred. Upon sale or retirement of equipment, the cost and related accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts. For income tax purposes, depreciation is provided under statutory accelerated methods.

Cash and cash equivalents:

For purposes of the Statement of Cash Flows, the Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments with initial maturities of less than three months to be cash equivalents.

Note 1 - Summary of significant accounting policies (Continued):

Profit-sharing plan:

The Company has a defined contribution 401(k) retirement plan. The Plan covers all employees who have incurred more than 500 hours of service during the year. The Company made matching contributions for participants of $2,000 per participant in 2004 and $1,500 per participant in 2003.

Income taxes:

The Company files consolidated income tax returns with its parent corporation, RLC Holding Company, Inc. Income tax expense is allocated to all companies based upon their respective share of consolidated taxable income. The various state returns are filed based on the taxable income in each state.

Certain items, such as depreciation and limitations on charitable contributions, are accounted for differently for financial reporting and income tax purposes. Deferred income taxes are provided in recognition of these timing differences.

Use of estimates:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Note 10 - Litigation:

The Company is party to an NASD arbitration claim with a former loan officer, related to commissions claimed to have been earned prior to the individual's termination from the Company.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL ACCOUNTING CONTROL REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17a-5

Board of Directors and Stockholder Rives, Leavell & Co., Inc. Jackson, Mississippi

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of Rives, Leavell & Co., Inc. (the Company), for the year ended December 31, 2004, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

- 1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons.
- 2. Recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
- 3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate. Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2004 to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
